FROM DIRECTOR DESK

As I look back on the past year at EduWeave Foundation, I am proud of the remarkable progress we have made across diverse regions. This year has been transformative, defined by meaningful collaborations, expanded partnerships, and impactful initiatives focused on delivering equitable and high-quality education to every child.

A notable achievement has been the launch of the ECCE curriculum in Chhattisgarh, developed in collaboration with UNICEF, SCERT, and the Department of Women and Child Development (WCD). In line with this, we signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the WCD for our first large-scale implementation project, 'Gadhbo Bachpan- carving childhood,' which focuses on district-wide transformation of approximately 2,000 Anganwadis in Raipur. Our partnership with UNICEF has further strengthened, with EduWeave providing technical support to SCERT to enhance teacher training programs and improve ECCE practices across the state. This collaboration represents a critical step toward the systemic transformation of foundational education.

Our scope of partnership with UNICEF has also expanded to West Bengal this year to strengthen FLN and quality Education across the state of West Bengal. Our association with the Jammu and Kashmir Association of Social Workers (JKASW) has further enabled us to the development of FLN Handbook for Grade 1 and 2 for the teachers of Jammu and Kashmir. We partnered with the CII Foundation to train around 250 Anganwadi workers in Karnataka and develop a TLM Handbook.

Our selection for the EdumentumX and Unlimited India cohorts have been instrumental in building our capacity, broadening our network and enhancing our efforts.

Participation in Invoked 3 has been another highlight, where EduWeave carved space in 'Bright Spots'. A moment of particular pride occurred when one of our Anganwadi workers from Raipur captivated the audience by leading a Chhattisgarhi song and dance, symbolizing our deep connection to the communities we serve. We were also honored by the recognition from the Assistant Director of ICDS-WCD, who spoke on the importance and success of the 'Gadhbo Bachpan' project.

We joined Shikshagraha, a people's movement committed to advancing educational equity. This partnership has not only strengthened our efforts in the Raipur district and beyond but also enhanced our internal capacities. It has provided valuable opportunities for networking and collaboration with other organizations, allowing us to refine our practices and improve our organizational structures for greater impact.

Our participation in the Reliance Foundation ECCE Conference, 'Building Flourishing Futures,' further underscored our commitment to innovation and collaboration. The learning station we presented at the conference provided an opportunity to share our work and approach with key stakeholders in the education sector. We are also collaborators of Bachpan Manao Badhte Jao to celebrate the abundance of childhood.

As we look ahead, we remain committed to our mission of creating opportunities for all children to access quality education during their foundational years. We are confident that through continued partnerships, innovation, and dedication, we will continue to make meaningful progress toward a brighter and more equitable future for the children and communities we serve.

HIGHLIGHTS

Launch of ECCE curriculum in Chhattisgarh

The ECCE curriculum designed in collaboration with UNICEF, SCERT Chhattisgarh and WCD Chhattisgarh was successfully launched by the Education Minister, of Chhattisgarh.

MoU signed with WCD , Chhattisgarh for District Transformation

We signed a MoU with the Department of Women and Child Development to transform 1,886 Anganwadi Centers in Raipur District as part of the 'Gadhbo Bachpan - Carving Childhood' project.

Partnership with UNICEF, Chhattisgarh

Our partnership with UNICEF Chhattisgarh continues this year focusing on the development of supportive material for ECCE, capacity building of the system functionaries on ECCE and Supportive Supervision and development of Training Manual.

Partnership with UNICEF, WB

We added a new geography in our work by partnering with UNICEF in West Bengal to strengthen Foundational Literacy and Numeracy Skills across the state.

Partnership with CII Foundation

We partnered with CII Foundation to train 300 Anganwadi workers under their 'Anganwadi Adoption Programme' in Karnataka on the effective use of Teaching Learning Materials (TLMs).

Partnership with JKASW (J&K)

Our partnership with JKASW continues for the third consecutive year on UNICEF supported project 'Systemic support for ECE/FLN and Out-of-school children in light of NEP 2020'.

We were featured in the 'Bright Spots' section of InvokED 3.0, where we discussed the 'Gadhbo Bachpan - Carving Childhood' project.

Joined shikshagraha

We are proud to be a part of Shikshagraha - A People's Movement for Education Equity.

Shikshāgraha is a people's movement that enables the education leaders, District officials & Civil Society Organisations to lead the co-creation efforts for the need-based programs. The mission is to 'Energise need-based school improvement programs in 100 districts, impacting 40 million children by 2025, collectively!'

In today's diverse classrooms, dialogue among stakeholders is essential. Teachers, students, parents, and policymakers must collaborate to shape an equitable educational ecosystem.

Collective action is a fundamental aspect of Shikshāgraha where people join together in a shared commitment to educational transformation.

From April 2023 to Jan 2024, we visited 30 districts across India and engaged with 55 organisations. We already have 18 Organisations facilitating district programs in phase 1 of Shikshāgraha.

Partnership with UNICEF - Strengthening Foundational Literacy and Numeracy in West Bengal

The purpose of the partnership is to work on systemic change and making the existing governmental structures more efficient and functional. The programme includes the following output components:

- Implementation of high quality supportive supervision for the strengthening of quality of education in- elementary grades
- Creation and Implementation of high quality contextual content for the foundational literacy and numeracy for pre-primary and primary grades
- Development of a strong MIS system in place for the efficient implementation on quality education in elementary grades

Supportive Supervision workshop of Master Trainers

A three- day capacity building workshop of 96 Master Trainers on Supportive Supervision was organised in collaboration with PBSSM and UNICEF in two batches in the month of April and May 2023. ADPO, AI, DDPO and Pedagogy coordinator of DIET from 24 districts participated in the workshop.

Supportive Supervision is an initiative by PBSSM to bring a shift in the perspective of the school inspectors to enhance the quality of education by ensuring a collaborative approach. The main objective of the workshop was to equip inspectors with the skills to provide constructive feedback, guidance, and mentoring to teachers. The workshop included role plays and different case studies so that the participants have a deep understanding of the approach and identify and address issues related to monitoring better in their respective school

District level Supportive Supervision training

The Master Trainers conducted workshops in their respective districts on Supportive Supervision. Our team provided technical support to district level trainings and observed the sessions to gain a comprehensive understanding of the context of the district, training programs and their implementation.

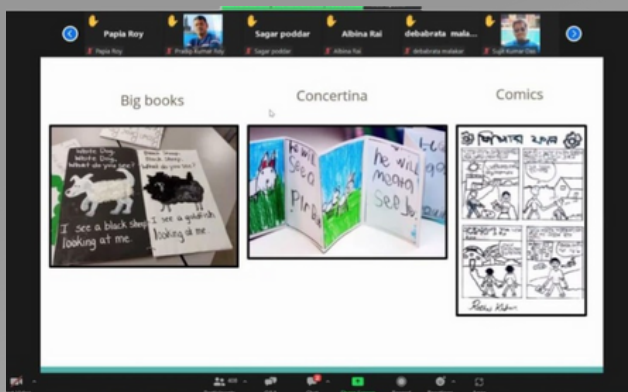

State level FLN training

We conducted a session on "Teaching English as a Second Language" in collaboration with UNICEF during a five-day state-level training. The session covered strategies, teaching-learning materials (TLMs), and principles of second language acquisition. Teachers shared their classroom challenges. We presented various activities linked to learning outcomes with teachers to overcome these challenges.

Online training of Reading Enhancement Program

The School Education Department, West Bengal has designed 'Reading Enhancement Programme' to ensure that students retain the current position as per the NAS - SAS data and further improve their reading competencies. It is a step to support children in effective communication, critical and creative thinking, ability to locate, understand and reflect on various kinds of information and improved articulation of thought.

These 1 hour training sessions usually include a discussion on the importance of reading and the challenges children face. The facilitators suggest and demonstrate activities to enhance reading skills of the primary school children. They also use multiple polls and question answer sessions to engage participants. An Activity booklet has been shared with the participants which has a compilation of activities and guidelines to enhance reading skills at primary level.

FLN एवं सपोर्टिव सुपरविज़न प्रक्रिया पर संकुल शैक्षिक समन्वयकों को प्रशिक्षित करने हेतु SRG का प्रशिक्षण

Continuing Partnership with UNICEF Chhattisgarh - Technical and facilitation support to SCERT: Systemic Capacity Building on ECCE and FLN

The purpose of the partnership is to provide technical and facilitation support to SCERT Chhattisgarh on the following components:

- Enhancement of capacities to develop and roll out the curriculum, learning material and classroom based assessment for continuum of learning for children at foundational stage (03-08 years) .
- Development of high quality contextual content for teachers and children for the strengthening of school readiness for the children aged 3-6 years.
- Creation of contextual content for the foundational literacy and numeracy for the strengthening of learning during foundational years 6-8 years.

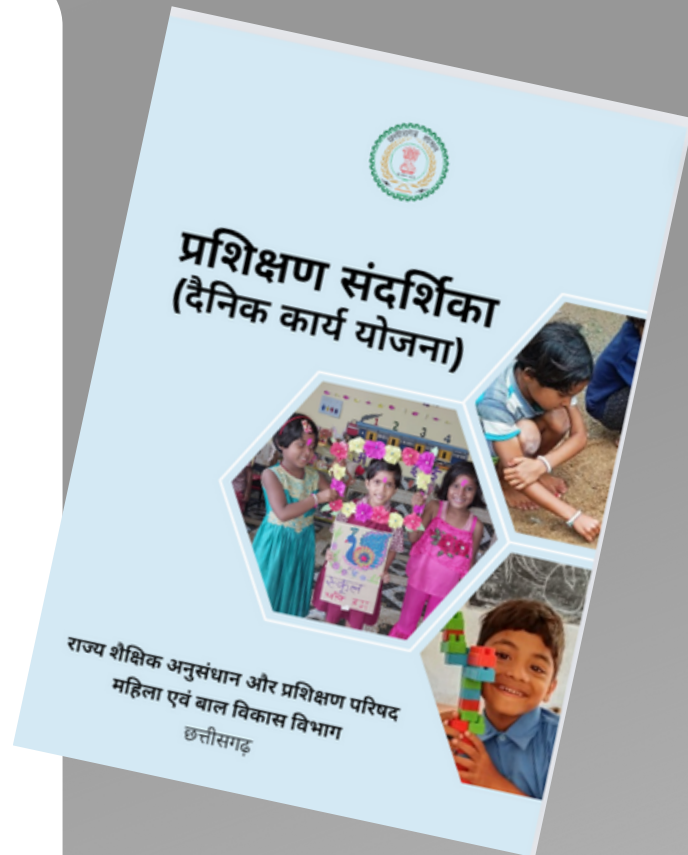

Development of Supportive Material for ECCE Curriculum

We facilitated a five-day workshop with the State Core Group of ECCE to develop and organise supportive material for ECCE Curriculum including worksheets, picture cards, akshar cards, songs and stories was organised in collaboration with UNICEF India and SCERT Chhattisgarh from 29th May to 2nd June 2023 .

Development of ECCE Training Manual

'Capacity building across all the levels of the system ensures a shared base of knowledge, skills and commitment for quality enhancement in schools and Anganwadis.'

A six-day workshop on the Development of Training Manual was organised at SCERT Chhattisgarh in collaboration with UNICEF India from 17th to 22nd July 2022. The purpose was to train system functionaries at all levels to implement the early years curriculum effectively in Anganwadis/Balwadis and Pre-schools ensuring uniformity of training at all levels.

Capacity Building of State Resource Group for the implementation of ECCE Curriculum in Chhattisgarh

The state decided to train 350 Master trainers from across all the districts to create a State Resource group which can further train all the Anganwadi workers and Balwadi teachers in their respective districts on the implementation of ECCE Curriculum. A group of 25 Master Trainers from the State Core Group of ECCE was chosen to conduct these trainings. We conducted five-day online training for the selected Core Group members so that all of us can conduct the training for State Resource Group efficiently. Ahvaan Trust and Azim Premji Foundation also participated in the training sessions.

A five-day experiential training for approximately 350 Master Trainers of State Resources Group was conducted in collaboration with UNICEF India and SCERT Chhattisgarh from 7th to 12th September 2023. These trainers included DIET faculty, APCs, DPOs, CDPOs, and Supervisors from both the Department of Education and the Department of Women and Child Development, representing all districts of Chhattisgarh.

Later in the month of January the same training was imparted to 170 Master Trainers from Department of Women and Child Development across all the districts of Chhattisgarh from 28th January to 2nd February 2024.

Strengthening Monitoring through Supportive Supervision

We conducted a three-day experiential workshop on supportive supervision for Anganwadi Supervisors (ECCE) in collaboration with UNICEF India and SCERT Chhattisgarh from 25th -27th September 2023. There were total 70 participants including DIET faculty, APCs, DPOs, CDPOs, and Supervisors from various districts of Chhattisgarh. The workshop highlighted the significance of supportive supervision as a tool to elevate the quality of education in Anganwadis and Balwadis. The participants were engaged in the real-time observations, data collection, and interactions with teachers and headteachers in schools. The 70 master trainers from this workshop will train CACs, CRCs, and supervisors in their respective districts, ensuring effective implementation of supportive supervision practices.

Officially signed a Memorandum of Understanding

We officially signed MoU for the Anganwadi Transformation Project, 'Gadhbo Bachpan' (Carving Childhood), with the Department of Women and Child Development marking our first implementation project. This initiative aims to enhance the foundational learning skills of children through Developmentally Appropriate Practices in all Anganwadi Centers across Raipur District. The project is set to support the education of approximately 165,000 children.

In partnership with the Department of Women and Child Development, we are dedicated to provide a holistic and empowering learning environment for the young children of Raipur District.

Capacity Building of Anganwadi Workers

The 'Gadhbo Bachpan - Carving Childhood' project is implemented in a phased manner. In the first phase of the project, 66 Anganwadi Centres were allotted to us.

A need assessment of 66 Anganwadi Centres was conducted where we found that the average instructional time is around 1 hour.

We began with orientation the Anganwadi Workers(AWWs) about the project and build their capacity on implementation of ECCE Curriculum. For which we conducted a a three day workshop with them with the support of the Department of Women and Child Development from 2nd February to 4th February.

The idea of small-improvements was also introduced to the AWWs and they decided on two areas for themselves and listed down the steps of each improvement area.

Early Successes:

In the first phase of the project, 70% of Anganwadi workers successfully increased instructional time to two hours using the ECCE curriculum. This enhancement has significantly impacted the quality of early childhood education in these centers.

JAMMU & KASHMIR

JKASW

UT Level Consultation

We participated in a consultation on Content Review & Development for FLN and facilitated a session on the FLN Handbook for Grade 1 & 2. This consultation was conducted in both Kashmir and Jammu regions, bringing together FLN experts from SCERT and the Department of Education. This engagement was a significant step towards ensuring effective development and implementation of the FLN Handbook, supporting educators and students in the Union Territory.

FLN Handbook

Under Content Review and Development Consultation in both Jammu and Kashmir divisions, we successfully developed the FLN Handbook for Grades 1 & 2. This handbook is developed to support approximately 39,000 teachers across the Union Territory. The FLN Handbook is an important resource designed to enhance teaching practices and improve learning outcomes among students of Grades 1 & 2

Day 1 emphasized on the key components of Program design like Situational Analysis - District Landscaping that included Persona Mapping followed by understanding the use of outcome and action documents like Theory of Change and Theory of Action.

Day 2 focused on need sensing for their context and stakeholders while also developing tools for need assessment.

Collabactors of bachpan manao BADHTE JAO

We are one of the 'collabactors' of 'Bachpan Manao', a movement dedicated to celebrating the abundance of childhood!

Amita Kaushik shared insights on the richness of childhood and how children play a crucial role in helping adults reconnect with their inner selves and offer a unique perspective on the world.

Residential Workshops by UnLtd India

We participated in Residential Workshop organised by UnLtd India from 5th -7th March 2024. The workshop focused on defining the Problem Statement clearly, conducting Market Research to understand our beneficiaries better, and understand Finance Management of the organisation.

ECCE conference 'Building Flourishing Futures

EduWeave Foundation participated in the ECCE conference 'Building Flourishing Futures: Early Childhood Care and Education' hosted by Reliance Foundation at the Dhirubhai Ambani International School. The conference brought together public and private sector stakeholders. We set up a learning station focused utilizing locally available low-cost materials. We engaged audience through storytelling accompanied with origami and follow up activities catering to various domains of development.

ECCE practitioners from different sectors were keen to learn from each other's work. The conference reaffirmed the commitment towards providing nurturing environment to children to enhance the quality of early childhood education.

Bright Spot at

We made a place in the 'Bright Spots' section of InvokEd 3.0 for its impactful project, Gadhbo Bachpan' - Carving Childhood. Ms. Kiran Tandon, Anganwadi Worker from Raipur, began the session with a Chhattisgadhi song. Ms. Amita Kaushik highlighted the importance of bringing systemic change in Angawadi Centres and establishing them as the institutions that provide quality early childhood education. At the event, Mr. Anukool Pandey, Assistant Director of ICDS, Women and Child Development, highlighted the transformative potential of government-NGO partnerships, citing Gadhbo Bachpan' as a shining example. Both the speakers echoed the power of collaborative action in achieving our shared mission of delivering quality education to children during early years. Mr. Pandey's vision for the future of Chhattisgarh's children truly resonates: "In the future, if there is news about Chhattisgarh on the front page of any newspaper, it should be about the achievements of our children."

Our Director also moderated a panel discussion ' Weaving local wisdom for impactful solutions' at the event. The Panel included Purvi Shah, Senior Director of Storyweaver and Ashish Shalini Shrivastava, Founder of Shiksharth.

Anganwadi Worker carved a place

Congratulations

Ms. Kiran Tandon of Anganwadi worker from Tivariya in the Dharsiva sector of Raipur made it to the 'Bright Spots' at InvokEd 3.0- A global dialogue on Education Leadership event in Bangalore. Her exceptional dedication and motivational leadership has rightfully earned her this prestigious spot ! She efficiently executed daily lesson plans aligned with the ECCE curriculum at her Anganwadi centre. Collaborating closely with parents, she raised awareness about stimulating activities for children aged 0-3 years. Additionally, she innovatively crafted relevant Teaching and Learning Materials (TLMs) using locally available resources. Her centre has truly set high standards for all Anganwadi Workers.

At the event, Ms. Tandon captivated everyone with her presentation about her work, challenges, and requirements at the Anganwadi center. Her performance of a Chhattisgarhi song mesmerized the audience, encouraging everyone to get up and dance! She also showcased her work at the EduWeave Foundation stall.

Ms. Kiran Tandon's dedication and innovation in early childhood education serve as an inspiration to educators worldwide.
